Birdathon to be Held June 6th

Join our “Elm Grove High Flyers” team!
By Karen Lloyd

Our local bird enthusiasts are organizing a team to compete in the upcoming Great Wisconsin Birdathon on Sunday, June 6! This program is intended to raise support and awareness for birds in Wisconsin. Participation/donations can be made at www.wisconservation.org/birdathon. Just click “Get Involved” to register and join our team (team name is Elm Grove High Flyers). To make an optional contribution, click “Donate” to send in your chosen dollar amount by credit card or check.

Team participants will meet on Sunday, June 6th at Elm Grove Village Park by the bird feeders outside the library entrance at 1 p.m. to take a leisurely walk around the park path, see how many different bird species we can identify and then submit our findings on the “eBird” app sponsored by the Cornell Lab of Ornithology. We have a 24-hour period to report bird sightings, so even those who cannot participate in the walk from 1-3 p.m. can submit their input. The best part is that half of the money raised in donations for our team will come back to Elm Grove to support our own community bird conservation efforts. The other half of donations supports the Bird Protection Fund priority projects in Wisconsin.

If you would like to join our Birdathon team, please email Karen Lloyd at knlloyd78@gmail.com, or Nicci Sternitzky: EgBeautification@gmail.com

Sign up, grab your binoculars, put on your walking shoes, and come with us for a fun bird-watching walk around the park on June 6!

Village Update

By Neil Palmer, President – Village of Elm Grove npalmer@elmgrovewi.org

May was a busy month for Village Board members with three special meetings needed to address specific issues in addition to the regular monthly meeting

The Board has approved an agreement with Third Space Brewing to operate a Beer Garden beginning on Friday, June 4 until the end of October. The Beer Garden can operate on Fridays from 4:00 until 9:00 p.m. and Saturdays from 3:00 until 9:00 p.m. The Beer Garden can also operate on evenings when Tunes on Tuesday music events are held.

Two Special Village Board meetings were held to address developments in the “Mandamus” litigation brought by residents Michael Rohr, Marc McSorley and Jan Termuehlen seeking to have a court order the Village to either adopt an ordinance requiring a referendum election prior to the letting of a public works contract costing a capital expenditure of $1 million or more or to hold a referendum asking residents if they want such an ordinance.

The Rohr, McSorley and Termuehlen litigation follows a 2020 petition effort under the Wisconsin “Direct Legislation” law which created a process where residents can petition to have a local government adopt an ordinance described in the petition or to hold a referendum on the proposed ordinance. Village Board members described the proposed ordinance of the petition circulated as unworkable and likely illegal under tests established by the Wisconsin Supreme Court for a valid petition created ordinance. As written the petition language could require multiple referendums for a single “project” or make projects more expensive by requiring fixed costs before final engineering is available. Also, since project costs can and do change after a project starts, what happens if a project estimated to cost less than $1 million is found to exceed $1 million? Do you stop work and wait until the next election to hold a referendum? Typically, project work or material bids have time line limits; could project be forced to begin the entire process from square one?

I hope that the legal dispute can be ended soon.

At a Special Board meeting held on May 26th the Village Board voted unanimously to neither hold a referendum on the petition language nor to adopt the proposed ordinance. Board members detailed specific problems the petition proposed language would create and specific legal conflicts of the petition proposed ordinance and existing state law.

As Village President I agree with all the technical, practical and legal reasons to oppose the petition ordinance. Direct legislation may be legal when conducted properly, but this effort is an insult to all the volunteers who sit on Village Committee and Boards. Elm Grove has a reputation for transparent government which has never spent money frivolously. This effort was undertaken to try to frustrate and block possible redevelopment of the School Sisters of Notre Dame campus, as admitted by some of the candidates in our recent Board election, not because of Village financial management. Would the petition creators or the litigants continue the lawsuits if there was no SSND redevelopment proposal? The Village Splash Pad project ended costing more than $1 million. A number of the pathways currently under consideration have estimates over $1 million. Should referendums be held all such efforts? Fire trucks can cost more than $1 million.

A good sign that summer will soon arrive is the Village Board Recreation Committee discussions of plans and schedules to open the swimming pool and for the grand opening of the new Splash Pad on June 8th.

Plans for the Village July 4th Independence Day celebration are moving forward. There will be a Fun Run, Children’s Bike Decorating contest, games in the park, food and fireworks. Thank you in advance to Junior Guild members who help make all this happen.

The Village Board has ended Village Hall and Park Covid restrictions. Masks are not required in Village buildings but are encouraged for those who have not been vaccinated or have other special medical concerns.

Finally, at the regular Village Board meeting this month the Board agreed to begin digitally recording all Village meetings for later viewing. Access to recorded meetings will soon be available on the Village website.

According to her sister, Anna, “Emma always dreamed of being a pilot. From a young age, she longed for the skies. Her grandfather Ronald Hutchinson was a personal pilot, often bringing Emma and her siblings on trips. When asked as a child what she wanted to be when she grew up, she said that her dream job was a pilot ballerina.”

At the age of 18, Emma earned her private pilot’s license after years of training with her grandfather, who passed away in a tragic plane accident in August of 2015.

Emma is the second oldest of five children and believes her family to be her greatest support and motivation. Her family, father Patrick, mother Stephanie, and siblings Abby, Anna, Catherine, Sean, plus Jake the dog all feel tremendous pride in her and look forward to her future success.

Emma desires to fly helicopters for the Marine Corps, a goal of which she knows her grandfather would be proud.

Our History: Remembrances of Things Past

Care for Sick and Aging Sisters

By Michele Levandoski / mlevandoski@ssnd.org
Archivist, School Sisters of Notre Dame North American Archives

By 1950, it was clear that the School Sisters of Notre Dame’s Milwaukee Motherhouse needed major renovations. The oldest sections of the building were over a hundred years old, there was evidence of structural deterioration and it was considered a fire hazard. The sheer size of the building meant that needed repairs would be costly, so the Sisters decided to build a new motherhouse in Mequon. The plans for the new facility did not include an infirmary in order to comply with local zoning laws that prohibited institutional dwellings, such as hospitals. The Sisters still needed a place to care for sick and infirm Sisters and once again, the property at Elm Grove provided the solution.

In 1957, construction started on Notre Dame Infirmary (NDI), a medical wing added to the existing psychiatric building (built 1955). The new facility included rooms for 100 patients as well as space for occupational and physical therapy departments. At the same time, the chapel was enlarged and reconfigured in a way that allowed sisters to enter from either wing.

In October 1958, preparations began for the opening of the new infirmary. Beds were purchased from Army surplus and an auto body painter was hired to bring his compressor to NDI to paint all the bed frames. Sisters made drapes for every room in the building and members of the Dad’s Club, made up of men who had daughters in the congregation, assisted by moving furniture and equipment from the Milwaukee Motherhouse to NDI.

In February 1959, the first group of sisters prepared to leave the Motherhouse infirmary for their new home at NDI. The Junior Sisters and Postulants gave them a “heartily send-off in song” and the nurses were sent ahead to serve as a welcoming committee. Four Red Cross ambulances were used to move the bed-bound patients and members of the Dad’s Club transported the wheelchair and ambulatory patients.

When NDI opened, it was staffed exclusively by Sisters, who were well educated in their respected fields. Sister

Theophone Mandragos was already a licensed physical therapist when she entered the congregation. She started a “traveling therapy” department at the old Motherhouse, which consisted of home-made equipment that she carried from room to room. She opened the NDI physical therapy department with second-hand and hand-made equipment. The Dad’s Club took up the project and set out to raise the $50,000 needed to purchase all new equipment.

In 1963, Sister Lucille Heidenreich opened the music therapy department, where she developed an exercise program using hula hoops that was later used in lay nursing homes. In 1964, Sister Sara Jean Donegan and Sister Immacula List graduated from the Marquette School of Dentistry and opened the dental clinic. Two years later, Sister Catherine Patrice Droszcz became a board-certified pharmacist and the campus pharmacy was established.

In 1970, the facility’s name was changed to the Notre Dame Health Care Center (NDHCC). Throughout the 1970s, the number of Sisters on staff gradually decreased and were replaced by lay nurses and aides. In the early 1990s, many of the buildings needed repairs and leadership created plans for a major renovation project. At that time, the decision was made to transfer Sisters in need of skilled nursing care to licensed facilities and convert the skilled nursing area to space for an assisted living facility.

In 1996, the three-year, $14 million renovation was completed. A new dining facility was added onto Theresa Hall, St. Joseph’s chapel was converted into the Heritage Room and bedrooms were enlarged and rearranged in groups around a community room and kitchenette.

Notre Dame of Elm Grove (NDEG) has long served as a place of rest and care for sisters living with medical and psychological issues. The history of NDEG shows that the SSND made caring for sick and elderly sisters a priority.

A Farm Girl Searches for God’s Way in Her Life

By Sister Mary Delbert Weisensel, SSND

I graduated from St. Mary’s Academy, Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin in 1954. During my formation training to become a School Sister of Notre Dame, I earned my bachelor of arts from Mount Mary College (now University), Milwaukee. While teaching in Wisconsin, I studied for a master’s degree as a reading specialist and school administrator at Clarke University, Dubuque, Iowa.

also includes: Assistant Principal and Principal in elementary schools; Assistant Principal and Principal in high schools; Child Care and Pre-School Director; Auditor and Advocate in a Marriage Tribunal; Provincial Councilor, Resource Development Sister Representative; and, giving service in retirement.

In answering God’s way, I have lived in community in Wisconsin, Illinois, Arizona and Texas. God’s way has involved me being called and being sent to minister in places I never dreamed of as a farm girl.

My teaching experiences included grades one, two, three, seven, eight and substitution in all situations needed in grades K- 8 and high school, which offered growing challenges. My resume

Woman’s Club Announces Art Scholarship Winners

By Lisabeth Passalis-Bain, elmgrovenews@yahoo.com

Local art enthusiasts gathered at the Elm Grove Woman’s Club (EGWC), 13885 Watertown Plank Rd., on the afternoon of May 15th to browse this year’s Springtime in the Grove event, held, due to Covid-19 social distancing concerns, in the club’s parking lot, and to also view indoors the artwork of 35 area high school students, as part of the 51st Annual Art Scholarship Competition.

Selected as the recipient of the EGWC’s $2,000 scholarship was Grace Schulz, a senior at Brookfield East, for her graphite and charcoal, “Black and White Portrait”.

Katya Shalyaev, of Brookfield Academy, was the winner of a $500 art grant, for students in grades 9-11, for her painting, “Bubblegum Machine”. A special “People’s Choice” award of $300, sponsored by club member Melissa Musante and voted on by those in attendance, went to Brookfield Academy student Jacqueline Dieck for her acrylic painting (done entirely with a palette knife) entitled “The 3 Masked Girls”.

The award winners’ schools will each receive a $250 School Supply Grant to be used for classroom art supplies.

Janet Day and Sue Mayhew served as co-chairs of the event, and noted that a percentage of the proceeds will help fund a new and much-needed handicap-access ramp at the Woman’s Club.

Girl Scouts Celebrate Achievements, Plant a Tree

(BROOKFIELD) As the 2020-2021 scouting year came to a close, Natasha Broxton and Wende Gorniak thanked parents and scouts for their participation in the Brookfield Academy Girl Scout troop #10274 activities during a particularly challenging year. The girls did an outstanding job earning badges and petals throughout the year.

The final gathering was held on the afternoon of Monday, May 17, 2021 at Beverly Hills Park Pavilion in Brookfield, located directly behind the lower school of Brookfield Academy.

A very special afternoon was planned for the scouts. The girls decided to use a portion of the money earned from cookie sales to help make the world a better place. Their goal was to improve our community and environment by conducting a park clean up and by planting a tree. The Daisy Scouts earned the Rosie Petal. The Junior Scouts completed the groundwork for a Bronze Award to improve the environment.

The tree was planted in collaboration with the City of Brookfield Memorial Tree Program in honor of the girls' community improvement efforts and was registered in the log at the Mayor's Office. The Hackberry tree, indigenous to Wisconsin, was planted behind the lower school. This location was selected because it will allow the girls to see the tree grow over the years they attend Brookfield Academy and remind them of the importance of serving our community and appreciating our environment.

Following the tree planting, the troop celebrated Grace Gorniak's and Charley Honkamp's bridge from Daisy Scouts to Brownie Scouts. Awards were given to all girls for cookie sales, and the girls enjoyed cake to celebrate the last year together.

‘Walk for Hope’ to be Held at Mitchell Park - June 5

An Opportunity to Help Kids You'll Never Meet

By Tom Curl

It's an inspiring story that has involved 10 work trips and 120 volunteers helping thousands of children.

The Elmbrook Rotary Club (ERC) is a group of business and professional people who work to create a better world. One of its major international projects is an educational program in Guatemala that helps keep children in school and provides health and dental care to their families.

Toward that end, over the past decade, ERC has sent 120 members, family, and friends to Guatemala to help build simple houses and support the work of Common Hope. The St. Paul-based nonprofit consistently earns the highest possible score from Guidestar, an organization that rates nonprofits on how efficiently they use contributors' money. Because of Common Hope's well-earned reputation, Elmbrook Rotary members have personally sponsored 30 children in their schooling.

Elmbrook Rotarian Jan Constable distributes books to Guatemalan school children, including this boy who received a Spanish language version of "If You Give a Mouse a Cookie".

June 5 is an opportunity to support the children of Guatemala through a "Walk for Hope" in Brookfield's Mitchell Park. It will be an opportunity to get some fresh air and exercise...enjoy the park in early summer...and visit with Rotarians who'll gladly share their inspiring experiences in Central America and elsewhere.

You can register on the club's website: elmbrookrotary.org, send a check made out to "Elmbrook Rotary Foundation" and mailed to: Box 1014, Brookfield, WI 53008, or just show up on June 5 and give your donation to any Rotarian. There is no minimum amount to participate.

New Wisconsin Garden Club President Announced

By Rose B. Heald

Laura Skoff, member and past president of the Elmbrook Garden Club, was installed as President of the Wisconsin Garden Club Federation on May 2 at the annual convention in Appleton, Wisconsin.

Laura is also a member of the Milwaukee Art Museum Garden Club and has achieved National Garden Club (NGC) Environmental and Gardening Consultant status through the NGC’s educational schools. She was the Tour Chair for the WGCF planned 2020 NGC Convention that was to be held in Milwaukee this past May, but unfortunately was cancelled due to our nation’s health pandemic.

In 2020, as WGCF First Vice-President, she implemented a fundraiser for colorful Pollinator Yard Signs, and was instrumental in planting a pollinator garden, with other members of the Elmbrook Garden Club, at the Elm Grove Woman’s Club, 13885 Watertown Plank Road, that included one of the signs. Estate Planning and Remarriage

By Attorney Isabell Mueller

Marriage is a time for celebration. However, in the event of a remarriage, it is imperative that you and your future spouse also focus on the less romantic process of redrafting your estate plans. Wisconsin is a Marital Property state, which means your marriage will affect the ownership of all of your assets, regardless of how the asset is titled. This change in ownership will affect not only the division of your assets in the event of a divorce, but also the distribution of your assets upon your death. In many instances it will result in a distribution that is substantially different from what you intended.

You and your future spouse's respective financial situations and family situations are most likely more complex than when you first married. You probably have more assets and one or both of you may have children from previous relationships. It may, therefore, be in both parties' interest to execute a prenuptial agreement. In deciding whether or not a prenuptial agreement is appropriate, you and your future spouse should address the following issues:

1. How do the two of you plan to share, or not share, your income and expenses?

Do either of you have any significant liabilities for which the other should not be held liable? Health care costs and the cost of long-term care should be a significant part of this discussion.

2. In the event of a divorce, how do you want your assets divided? Do either of you have strong feelings about keeping any assets as your "individual" property in the event of a divorce?

3. In the event of your death, how do you want your property to be divided between your surviving spouse and your children? Do you want the majority, if not all, of the assets going to your surviving spouse? Or do you want your children or other family members receiving a significant share? These are the most significant issues that must be addressed and are also the factors which will determine whether or not a prenuptial agreement is needed. Once these issues have been addressed and, if necessary, a prenuptial agreement has been signed, the rest of your estate planning documents, (Wills, Revocable Trusts, Powers of Attorney, etc.) should be updated to reflect both your decisions and your new marriage.

Move the Petition Forward

Last October, Elm Grove citizens submitted a valid and legal direct legislation petition to the Village. The petition proposes that public works projects of $1 million or more be voted on by referendum before proceeding. The intention is to ensure significant public works projects have broad resident support.

A certified direct legislation petition has only two paths forward: Trustees can vote it into law OR place it on a ballot to be voted on by electors. If a majority approve, it becomes law. There's no third option.

From the moment the petition was submitted, village leadership has gone to extraordinary lengths to disregard residents' rights in favor of their own authority. They rushed counter legislation hoping to invalidate the petition's certification. They disqualified signatures based on handwriting discrepancies. They argued semantic concerns. After trying to decertify the petition, village officials fought to have the matter dismissed in court when residents petitioned to ensure the legal rights of citizens were upheld.

In May, Waukesha County Circuit Court Judge Michael Bohren ruled the citizen's petition was lawful and should proceed. A Mandamus Order – an extraordinary writ issued to compel compliance with a plain duty – was granted to ensure that the Village complies with the law.

At the time of this writing, the Village Board is meeting with legal counsel to determine their strategy going forward. Hopefully, they will decide not to expend any more taxpayer-funded resources and advance the petition in the proper legal manner.

Elmbrook Schools Should Reject Equity Non-Negotiables

A recent presentation from the Equity Non-Negotiables work group stated, "Equity Principles need to be interwoven into the District Strategy in order to meet our mission." What are the work group's non-negotiables? It begins with accusations: "Historical and continuing structural inequities create disparate outcomes for marginalized student populations." And goes further to claim, "...the system is responsible for failure." I thought individuals are responsible for their success or failure. Their non-negotiable solutions state: "As a District committed to equity, we seek to disrupt societal and historical inequities and eliminate disparities based on student and family characteristics..." and "Elmbrook Schools is responsible for creating a system where success for ALL students is accessible through a representative and inclusive curriculum that decenters whiteness and prioritizes marginalized communities in all subjects."

The district says there is no CRT in our schools today. However, Identity Relevant Teaching is very present and part of the ideological infrastructure that leads to CRT very quickly by pitting groups against each other. "Elmbrook commits to creating a comprehensive plan to hire ... staff that identify as Black, Indigenous, or People of Color...(and) adjust curricula... to ensure...anti-racist history ..." What happened to merit-based hiring? There you have it. Equity is a euphemism for Critical Race Theory.

Tell the Elmbrook School Board to vote NO to Equity and CRT principles on June 8th.

Go wild this summer with reading and fun at the Elm Grove Library! Join us for outdoor kids’ events nearly every week, featuring magic, music, cartooning and more! There are also family story times on Friday mornings, and a host of other activities.

In addition to the excitement at the library, there will be an interactive, online summer reading program (with prizes) to keep kids engaged at home as well. Get the full lineup of happenings at elmgrovelibrary.org or pick up a schedule at the library.

“Books permit us to voyage through time, to tap the wisdom of our ancestors. The library connects us with the insight and knowledge, painfully extracted from Nature, of the greatest minds that ever were, with the best teachers, drawn from the entire planet and from all our history, to instruct us without tiring, and to inspire us to make our own contribution to the collective knowledge of the human species.

I think the health of our civilization, the depth of our awareness about the underpinnings of our culture and our concern for the future can all be tested by how well we support our libraries.”
